

Belong in this Place
 A Forest School Festival for the whole Family
 5th - 7th October 2018

Join us and be part of the national Forest School community for a wild weekend in the woods. Nestled between the trees of a beautiful Norfolk woodland we will be; recognising new ideas, knowledge and skills; reciprocating feelings, discussions and actions; and regenerating ourselves, our communities and our planet. Come and connect to nature and...

Belong in this Place
A Forest School Festival for the whole family
 5th – 7th October 2018 at Bradmoor Woods, Norfolk
 (arrivals from 4pm Friday 5th and closes 4pm Sunday 7th)
 Tickets start from £145 (Practitioners), £50 (Adult Guests) & £25 (Children) for the full weekend

What will be happening?

 Practitioner Workshops:

- Nature Pedagogy with Marina Robb
- Natural Storytelling with Georgiana Keable
- Spirituality & Forest School with Rachel Summers
- Biophilia & our 9 connections with Nature with Lily Horseman
- Sensory Processing Differences & Forest School with Michael James
- John Muir Award as a meaningful tool for nature connection with Coralie Hopwood
- Magic Spots with Eloise Wilkinson
- Time & Space to think with Sarah Lawfull
- Ecological concepts & Forest School with Jon Cree

 Speakers & Discussions:

- Steve Van Matre – ‘Neither Contact, nor Connect, but Converge: finding our way back to the heart of nature’
- Dr Rachel Bragg – “Why connection to nature is crucial in outdoor learning – the science behind the practice”
- Jon Cree – ‘What is Forest School’s place in the outdoor learning movement?’
- Facilitated discussions, Q & A, networking & more!

 Nature Nerd-Outs:

- Opening the eye of the tracker with Jasper Kemp
- Responsible insect handling with Ashley Parfitt
- More to be announced soon – herbal walks, fungi forays, woodland management & more!

 Doing & Making:

- Taking a rope for a walk with Carol Middleton
- Singing from the heart with Elizabeth Swift
- Crafts, Games & Toys to make with Mark Clark
- Viking Game to play & Make with Tim Evans
- Mindfulness for families with Joanna Shelton
- Willow crafts with Coddiwomplers
- Nature Yoga with Cab Benton
- More to be announced soon – spooncarving, Archery, Tool maintenance & more!

More contributors are being confirmed, plus a ‘Village’ of trade stands, demonstrator & displays, evening entertainment, yummy vegetarian food, bar, campfire conversations and general groovyness!

For more information and booking, please visit:

www.forestschoollassociation.org/national-forest-school-festival-2018/
www.facebook.com/ForestSchoolFestival/